What's New!! Hawaii Forest & Trail Launches New Oahu Adventures that Connect People to Place

After 25 years of building an acclaimed reputation on Hawaii Island, Hawaii Forest & Trail is launching three never-before-offered custom outdoor adventures on Oahu. Months and months of research and discovery have led to enlivening tour itineraries that include hidden spots and unique journeys. Travelers to the island of Oahu now have the opportunity to forge personal connections with nature – Hawaii Forest & Trail style.

Husband and wife duo Rob and Cindy Pacheco built Hawaii Forest & Trail on a foundation of knowledgeable, professional and well-qualified guides. In 1994, when Hawaii Forest & Trail began offering its first adventures on Hawaii Island, Pacheco was "the only guide" for every trip. Since then, a handpicked cadre of guides with strong academic backgrounds in biology, geology, Hawaiian culture and history, and extensive natural history field experience now set the standard. "It's not enough for the guides to simply 'know things,' said Pacheco. "They must also have a passion for Hawaii's natural world and enthusiasm for sharing it."

Guests who choose Hawaii Forest & Trail's Oahu adventures will discover the passion of the guides who are deeply connected to place. Just ask Chauncy Santiago, an Oahu-based guide, who has made the leap over from Hawaii Island to work on establishing new Hawaii Forest & Trail adventures. She says her favorite tour is "Farm to Forest where we have the opportunity to check out an amazing food farm with a heartwarming story of giving back to the community. They like to say they are not only raising organic products, but organic leaders as well."

Hawaii Forest & Trail Oahu makes adventuring effortless with pick-ups in several Waikiki and Kapolei locations. Guests climb aboard first-class vehicles where they immediately experience Oahu from a different perspective.
